State Committee
Election 2012

William Francis Galvin
Secretary of the Commonwealth updated 7/28/11
Election and Organization

State committees of political parties are organized under Massachusetts General Law chapter 52, section 1, to:

- promote the aims of each party;
- work in cooperation with the national committee and with ward and town committees; and
- organize and work for the nomination and election of party candidates.

ELECTION PROCEDURES

Membership

The state committee of each party includes one man and one woman from each of the 40 state senatorial districts in Massachusetts. They are elected at the presidential primary election for a four year term. Additional members may be appointed by the state committee to hold office for two years from the date of such appointment. Terms for additional members may not exceed those of members elected at the presidential primary.

Candidate Requirements

Candidates for the party state committees must be registered voters in the senatorial district from which they plan to run. Each candidate must be an enrolled member of the party throughout the 90 days before the filing deadline for nomination papers with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, or a newly registered voter enrolled in that party. Additionally, candidates cannot have been enrolled in another political party during the one year period before the filing deadline. Candidates must prove party affiliation by filing a certificate of party enrollment, signed by at least three members of the local board of registrars or election commission, with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The enrollment certificate is printed on the nomination papers. At least one such certificate must be completed and filed no later than the last day for filing nomination papers with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. At least one of the certified papers must also contain a written acceptance of nomination signed by the candidate.

Instructions to Candidates

Nomination papers will be available on Tuesday, August 2, 2011, from the Secretary of the Commonwealth’s Elections Division, Room 1705, One Ashburton Place, Boston, Massachusetts 02108. Many local clerk’s offices may also have nomination papers available. Read the instructions on the nomination papers carefully before circulating and check that the name of the district is correct. Be sure to fill in the name of the city or town where signers of each paper are registered voters.

The law allows a candidate to make exact copies of blank nomination papers in order to gather additional signatures. However, nomination papers cannot be altered in any way. Additional markings on nomination papers may disqualify any signatures contained thereon.

Nomination papers have a designated space where a candidate may make a statement, in not more than eight words, to list the “public offices” currently or previously held by the candidate. Please be aware that not every governmental employee holds a public office; holders of public office must have entrusted to them in some degree the exercise of power and authority of government. The duties must be not merely clerical, but must involve the exercise of some significant discretion or judgment. In addition, the position must not be merely advisory and must be established by law. A political party position is not a “public office.”

Candidates must use the word “former” to describe a public office held if they are not incumbents. A candidate who was elected by the voters as a state committeeman or woman at the 2008 presidential primary may include in the eight word statement the phrase “Candidate for Re-election.” (However, appointed incumbent candidates may not use this phrase.) If the candidate is a veteran, as defined in chapter 31, section 1 of the Massachusetts General Laws, the word “veteran” may be used.

District Designation

As noted previously, state committee candidates are elected by senatorial district. As a result of the 2010 federal census, new senatorial districts are in the process of being drawn. Accordingly, as there is some time, candidates may choose to wait until the districts are re-drawn before completing their papers or may circulate with the current district name. If the name of the district is different when the candidate submits their papers to the local election officials for certification, the general laws allow the name of the district to be changed on the nomination papers by the candidate in the presence of the local election official. Additionally, please be aware that the Secretary of the Commonwealth has filed legislation, House Bill 2741, which would allow this Office to print names of candidates for state committee who are otherwise qualified to be printed on the ballot in the district in which they are registered to vote, regardless of what district name was printed on their nomination papers.
However, please be aware that this legislation has not yet passed and candidates for state committee should proceed with caution.

Signatures of Voters
State committee candidates must obtain at least 50 certified signatures on their nomination papers. Signers must be registered voters in the district and be enrolled in the candidate’s party or not enrolled in any party. Signatures on nomination papers must be certified by at least three registrars of voters or election commissioners.

As noted above, as the senatorial districts are not yet known, state committee candidates should take caution when collecting signatures. The best way to make sure that the signatures will be certified in the proper district is to collect them from registered voters in the same precinct as the candidate. However, please be sure to check the precinct boundaries, which may have recently changed as a result of local re-precincting.

Filing Nomination Papers
Please refer to the schedule on the back page for actual filing deadlines. If possible, file nomination papers earlier than the deadline. This allows for identification of any errors in the papers and collection of additional signatures, if needed.

Nomination papers must be submitted to the local board of registrars or election commission for the certification of names no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday, November 4, 2011.

Nomination papers must be picked up from the local election officials and filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth no later than 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 15, 2011.

ORGANIZATION PROCEDURES

Each man and woman elected at the presidential primary holds office for four years from the 30th day after the election. Elected members must meet within ten days after they take office to choose a temporary chairperson and secretary. They then must permanently organize by choosing a chairperson, secretary, treasurer, and whichever other offices they decide upon.

Vacancies
Vacancies in the membership may be filled by the membership of the state committee. Vacancies caused by a tie at the presidential primary election must be filled by a convention of the ward and town committees’ delegates from that district who must choose one of the candidates receiving the tie vote. Additional members may be appointed by the state committee at any time during the four year period.

Notice
The secretary of the state committee must send to the Secretary of the Commonwealth and to every city and town committee a list of:

- the members and officers of the state committee, within ten days after its permanent organization;
- any appointed members, within ten days after their appointment; and
- any officers or members appointed to fill a vacancy, within ten days after their appointment.
