

On the Road

with the Massachusetts Historical Commission
William Francis Galvin
Secretary of the Commonwealth

A message to the Local Historical Commissions of Massachusetts from Christopher C. Skelly,
Director of Local Government Programs

MHC is willing to travel to your community to meet with you and other communities in your area. In a recent survey of the Historical Commissions of Massachusetts, many Commissions stated that they would like to have local meetings in their area with MHC staff. Part of my job is to do just that!

I am particularly interested in meeting with three or four communities at the same time. This is more efficient since there are 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts! Meeting with other towns in your area will also help you to become acquainted with nearby Historical Commissions that may be facing the same challenges as you.

Our meetings can cover many different topics such as the role of a Historical Commission, Goals and Objectives, Grants, Inventory/Survey, Zoning, National Register, Local Historic Districts, Demolition Delay Bylaws, Maintaining Community Character, Downtown Revitalization and so on.

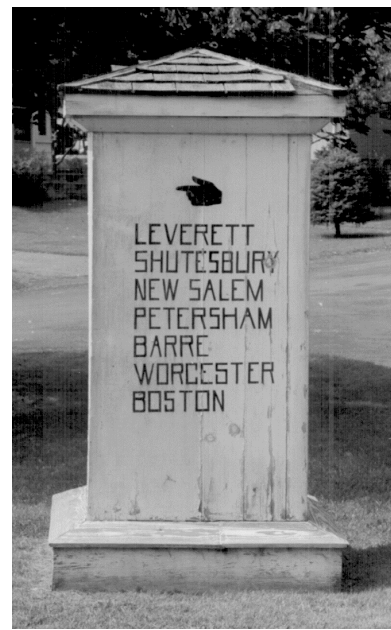

If you would like to host a meeting in your area, please contact me for more information. After we determine a suitable time and place (such as your town hall), I will send you a mailing list of Historical Commission members within your area. You can then prepare a letter or flyer inviting them to the regional meeting in your community.

I look forward to meeting with you and other commissions in your region.

The topic Historical Commissions in Massachusetts is a general question and answer discussion on various aspects of a local historical commissions, such as conducting inventories of historic properties, National Register nominations, receiving grants and preservation planning. This workshop uses a handout.

The topic Preservation Bylaws and Ordinances is a question and answer discussion on the uses and benefits of various preservation bylaws and ordinances used by communities throughout Massachusetts. Topics include demolition delay bylaws, local historic districts, cluster developments, overlay zoning, design review districts, neighborhood conservation districts and many others. This workshop uses a slide presentation and includes handouts.

The topic Historic District Commissions is a question and answer discussion for Historic District Commissions administering Chapter 40C or Special Act Historic Districts. Topics include a statewide overview of historic districts, review procedures, the need for design review guidelines, consistent decision making, public relations and next steps.

These are only possible topics. If you have a suggestion for another regional meeting topic, we would be happy to hear them.

Please note that even if an On the Road meeting was recently held in your region, you are still welcome to host another meeting. On the Road meetings are flexible in format and can easily be adjusted based on the interests and questions of the audience.
