Hi,

Sorry abut the fact that you missed to hear the most updated voice message that I left you about today's business appointment.

However, to mitigate against the miscommunication, please see the attached documents that are required to be filled in detail while in order to register an incorporation in the state of MA.

As you might find in the documents, there is nothing for you to fill in yourself at this moment as we need to have the technical information ready then we fill it in the pdf together, print and send for incorporation.

The most difficult technical information that needs to be solved is whether to register as an incorporation or as an LLC.

1. If we decide to register as an incorporation, we must allocate a minimum number of shares up to 275,000 shares which will cost us $275 to file the registration. This way, you would own 10% of any shares authorized which would be equivalent to 10% of your investment.

If we decide to start with 200,000 shares, you would own 20,000 shares.

2. If we decide to register as an LLC, we don't have to allocate any shares and it will cost us $500 to file the registration.

As I am leaning more towards the Incorporation since it would be good to sell shares to other people between January and May next year when folks are receiving their tax refunds in order to raise more capital for operations requires by the increased company growth potential.

It's a complicated decision that needs sober debate before we effect it and we will need to sit down with a professional consultant on this issue to guide us on the best way forward.

Therefore I urge you to also do some research on this by visiting the Secretary of State Corporations Division (look at the filing by subject section) on the page found on the in the url below:

http://www.sec.state.ma.us/cor/coridx.htm

Again, let's try to have fluid and flexible communication channels open (phone, text, email) to avoid this kind of a scenario again as well all have different commitments with little time.

Lastly, the reason I think we might do very well when we issue shares to people out there is because I have evaluated the market and found it very ripe.

INVESTORS WANTED
AjabuMedia Communications is welcoming any individual, investor or government who might be interested in joining us in our leading role of developing the very scarce and limited web content for the niche East African market.

Currently, the dominant web content on the world wide web has completely ignored the African culture, and consequently, has limited relevance in meeting some specific needs for most of the Africans in the diaspora. Worse still, the price of providing such online content is exorbitant, thus occasioning the dismal performance of web content targeted at the lucrative African Market.

AjabuMedia Communications has the technology needed to generate such content but as usual, limited capital position is hampering our progress.

To get more information about investor relationship possibilities, send us an email at investors@ajabumedia.com at your earliest convinience. We shall respond to you promptly.

Hi [Name],

I hope you had a merry Christmas.

I guess I have to email you this contract so that we can try and move things faster.

Please read it carefully and see the agreement. I have wriggled out of this telecom company.

20% of all sales for the life of the customer is a big deal.

However, we need to recruit many local sub dealers everywhere and give them 15% for all sales that make in their stores. We get to keep 205 of the online sales.

It might seem small but in big, recurring volumes, it could add up very fast. (i.e. Just like Amazon.com, they get 20% of all online sales done in the world today - it adds up to billions of $$$)

Now, the service and everything else is in place.

i.e:

1. Phone sales and billing system.
2. New Fax and photocopy equipment for the Malden office that has a very high foot traffic.

3. At the Lowell office, my partner Tim, will do the sales that as he is always in. I have agreed to split 50-50 on commission basis and I won't have to hire a representative to pay wages! I can therefore man the Malden office myself at this time.

3. Now, the only thing remaining is some funds to get up and running. Here is specifically what I am looking for:

1. $750 for super dealer status deposit (this service runs on bulk purchase) so that I can get to start signing up dozens of local stores for Kenyans and Ugandans and Ethiopians in Boston and across the US.

2. $575 to restore the Comcast at the Malden office.

3. $500 to register the LLC.

4. $750 for one month's backed up rent in Malden office.

Total: $2,575.

If we figure out how to get that, then office sales part of the business can start running as soon as tomorrow.

Also, please remember that this is a business where i keep investing capital to in order to be positioned for the right opportunities when they show up at the right time.

So please let me know if you can come up with this immediately needed capital at the earliest convenience. if only banks were giving out working capital loans, then this would not be a problem.Citizens had sent me an offer for working capital loan bu their minimum sales requirement was $100,000 per year. I have been selling about $55,000 per year in what is recorded sales.

You had also told me you would refer any other person who might be interested in becoming a partner so that we raise the extra funds that were needed to get the biz roaring at full speed.

If you have a person in mind, let me know.
I think with these details, we can avoid the urgent meeting i was requesting on the phone yesterday as we all have tight family schedules.

But otherwise, i can be available today at the malden office when you leave work as there is not school for kids.

Let me know,

Thanks a lot,
Harrison.

About Us

Ajabu is a Swahili word for Amazing. Swahili is the fastest spreading language on the African continent. The language is not owned by any one particular community, rather it developed at the East African coast drawing words form various African, Asian, Arabic and European communities who met at the East African coast during the early trade exchanges.

Due to the common colonial history of the many African countries, some cherished values of community have gradually been diminished under the invasive forces of Western intrusion. The collaborations of Maji-Maji and Mau-Mau may have played their part, but the struggle for self-determination continues.

While acknowledging the unique needs of Africans as previously colonized states, AjabuAfrica.com aspires to forge solidarity, cultural understanding, and promotion of a positive image of people from the great nations of Africa.

Cooperation unlocks unlimited possibilities.

Through our cutting edge, user-friendly technology, Africans living in the Diaspora can now interact with counterparts in the motherland, and beyond. Here is your chance to direct capital, technology, and other crucial factors of production back home.

We challenge the generally perceived notion of the Western world that Africa is a ‘war zone’, ‘a lost continent’, ‘a dark continent’ and all other similary offensive stereotypes. If you live in the western world, you may have occasionally been a target of ignorant, yet embarrassing questions, like “Do you have cities in Africa?” “Do people have houses?”, ”Do people have cars in Africa?”“Has the war stopped?”.

For those who are well informed, wars, diseases and ignorance happen at every corner of the globe, and are not an “African only” phenomena.

It is therefore amazing how Africans in the Diaspora are responding towards making a positive difference in their motherlands as well as gaining progress in the western world. This can only be attributed to the more amazing powers of God that many Africans believe in and do their best to live up to.

Here at Ajabu Africa, we deliberately harness the human and economic resources that promise a much better future for Africans. We believe that Africa has the necessary resources and will power to propel herself into greater heights of prosperity, if provided with a fair deal in the world scheme of things!

Umoja, or togetherness, is just the first step towards achieving these ideals.

Ajabuafrica.com, being a Christian faith based news organization, is at the forefront of projecting the success and goodness of Africa, which calls up everyone in Africa to rise up and shine in unity by supporting our people, our businesses and our institutions!

We also recognize that not everyone in the western world has a negative view of Africa. In our quest to educate those who may not have had a chance to learn about Africa directly from the Africans themselves (for a fair and balanced point of view), AjabuAfrica.com welcomes progressive partnerships, grants, loans or donations from any individual, organization or government who may want to help us achieve our goals faster and more efficiently.

AjabuAfrica.com - Community Better Together
WELCOME TO OUR WEBSITE

Ajabu Properties has acquired the services of top quality developers in Kenya to in order to enable the Kenyans living in the Diaspora to be aware when affordable properties are coming up for sale.

We aim to assist Kenyans in the Diaspora to own property in the motherland as most of them have no means and access to the right information at the right time.

Mortgages will be availed to those who qualify. Rarely has anyone Kenyan based in the USA or U.K has failed to qualify unless they did not provide all the legal documents required.
